We Bring Spirituality into Reality

Renovation can be a great variable to study. Many good questions arose during our three month overhaul. Such as; when is a piece of furniture right or not, what feeling do you want to create in the space you are changing?

When you learn how to be in the creative process, using feeling, with no limitations, you can move forward with the understanding that each difficult situation is simply a chance to learn, or create something greater...the result is always perfection.

Choose the Heart and it's "Life School" Open in the Heart of Sebastopol

We at Choose the Heart, feel that evolution comes from education, understanding, and choice. We realize that modern civilization has not produced schools that teach people the truth about the world they exist in, including the source and original intention behind Earth, why humans are here, who they really are, and why this reality is so difficult to understand and effectively navigate your way through.

Choose the Heart's Life School is dedicated to bringing this knowledge to those who seek it, so that they may live their life in greater comfort, peace, and understanding. Our educational approach combines instruction with practical application. We are not officially accredited by any human educational agency, but rather by an ethereal board of Ascended Masters whose criteria for excellence we met long ago.

We feel that anytime we are connected to Truth, we are Home. From this perspective we have created a comfortable and nurturing 'living room' setting in which to learn, remember, and expand consciousness. The size of our classes, seminars, and workshops are limited to create intimacy, depth, and tranquility.

We are pleased to bring to our community of fellow seekers a variety of educational options from which to choose. Those who wish to take classes spontaneously and individually have three long-term study courses from which to select, along with lectures, seminars, and weekend workshops.

Those who have been looking for a more extensive experience in the study of human consciousness and evolution will have the opportunity to commit to an extended educational program. The first student body began in 2005 and is currently in advanced study. As Choose the Heart now opens to the general public, it invites the new class of 2011 to create itself. As the new student body completes its novice education, intermediate and advanced classes will be designed to take them into deeper study.

On Earth, the path to evolution is only through, not around, the human experience. Therefore, we must take our understandings into that experience, for this is the only way we can become our knowing. This is why Choose the Heart offers classes that focus on heaven and earth, spirit and human, and divine truth and practicality. We believe that when you bring spirituality into human reality you will find your way Home.
